Centenary Lecture - Tue 12 Dec 2023

Gideon Mendel

Gideon is a South African photographer who has lived in the UK since the early 1990s. He is a Struggle photographer whose work engages with contemporary social issues of global concern such as HIV and AIDS.

Since 2007 he has been working on "Drowning World", an art and advocacy project about flooding - his personal response to the climate crisis.

His intimate style of committed image making, and long-term commitment to projects has earned him high critical acclaim.
