Doug Allan of Blue Planet fame

Doug has shared a Mars bar with David Attenborough and a bed with Ewan McGregor ... Is it true your eyeballs freeze at minus 50? Can you really talk to whales?

An Eye for an Image is a presentation by award winning cameraman Doug Allan. A chance meeting with David Attenborough in 1981 opened his eyes to wildlife film making, particularly in the poles. He has filmed for series like The Blue Planet, Planet Earth, Frozen Planet, Ocean Giants, Operation Iceberg and Forces of Nature, as well as making programmes for the Living Oceans Foundation about coral reef conservation and overfishing.
